

The Young Eagles—ages 17 to 24—are hoping to prove again that America raises the best shooters in the world.

These kids should be sent out of the country.

The most successful American shooting team in history needs your help.

The Young Eagles—the U.S. Under-25 Rifle Team—didn't even exist until 2000. Since then, our team has two World Championships and several silver medals, making it the most successful international shooting sports team in U.S. history.

This year, we hope to send 12 young shooters, ages 17 to 24, to the 2011 World Championships in Australia. But, that takes money.

That's where you can help. Your tax-deductible donation will give these dedicated youngsters a chance at another championship.

Any support you can provide will be deeply appreciated. Please send your check to the address below, or contact us if you'd like more information.

With your help, the Young Eagles can come out on top Down Under.
